Film will be shown at Friendship Church

In an immense universe stretching through the vastness of space, our nearest neighbor is the moon. We know that it is barren, desolate, devoid of even the simplest forms of life. What a contrast to the earth–a sphere of striking beauty with a dazzling diversity of life. What makes the difference? The answer is illustrated in the Sermons From Science ® film, WHERE THE WATERS RUN.

The film will be shown at the Friendship Baptist Church Sunday night at 6 p.m. The church is located on Route 727.

In this production animated illustrations, slow motion and time lapse photography, as well as unique close-ups are used to effectively show some of the surprising characteristics of water. The innovative and beautiful photography that has become synonomous with Sermons From Science ® films through the years since the first production in 1945 is much in evidence in WHERE THE WATERS RUN.

The thrust of WHERE THE WATERS RUN is to present the similarities between the precise properties of physical water and "spiritual water". The film shows evidence that "where the waters run, you'll find life; where they do not–desolation and death. Where the 'spiritual waters' run, you'll find spiritual life; where they do not–spiritual desolation and death."

Crop protection is slated

Disaster Payment Program - The ASCS disaster payments program provided crop protection against severe weather conditions and includes provisions for prevented planting and low crop yields. If farmers expect low yields on their small grain crops because of severe winter weather they should contact our office. Applications for disaster credit must generally be filled within 15 days after harvest, while evidence of the crop is present.

The program authorizes payments to wheat and feed grain producers whose crop yield is less than 60 percent of the established yield times the acreage planted for harvest. This payment is based only on the deficiency in production below 60 percent.

Farmers will also be eligible to receive disaster payments when they are prevented from producing any program crop for harvest because of a natural disaster. The disaster must also prevent the planting of other later non-conserving crops.

The disaster payments program covers drought, flood, hail, windstorm, insect infestation, plant disease or any other type of disaster which occurs through no fault of the farmer.

All farmers are eligible for disaster payments. However, those who plant within their normal crop acreage (NCA) will receive payments based on a higher price support level than those who exceed" their NCA. The high and low payment rates for prevented planting conditions are: barley, $0.85 and $.76 per bushel; corn, $.78 and $.68; grain sorghum, $.83 and $.82; wheat $1.21 and $1.03 per bushel).

Under low yield conditions the two-tier per bushel rates are: barley, $1.28 and $1.15 per bushel; corn, $1.18 and $1.03; grain sorghum, $1.25 and $1.23; wheat, $1.82 and $1.52.

Farmers should keep an accurate record of their 1980 crop production and notify the county ASCS office before destroying acreages or planting other than grain crops when a disaster strikes.

Farmers who plan to commingle farm-stored commodities that were produced in different crop years should have the previous year's production measured by ASCS before placing the 1980 crops in the same bin.

All farmers need to report crop acreages to be eligible for the disaster program.

The store, which offers a wide variety of sporting clothes for ladies and men, is the Mendozas' first business-ownership venture, though the two have been in the business for some time. Omar managed a similar for 17 years, while Terry worked in the clothing business for the past seven years. The two are currently looking for a home in Appomatox, which they have found to be a "warm, friendly community."

Chairpersons are named for Mental Health campaign

Four local persons have been named chairpersons for the 1980 Mental Health Campaign, according to E. S. Elliott, president of the Mental Health Association in Virginia.

Mrs. Harry Lawson of Appomattox, Mrs. T. K. Hamilton of Evergreen, Mrs. Louisa Hawley of Spout Spring, and Mrs. A. M. Edward of Pamplin have all been appointed chairmen of the Mental Health Campaign in their respective communities.

These chairpersons will recruit volunteers who will go house-to-house during the month of May.

The Mental Health Association is a citizens' volunteer organization, with members working to inform the public about mental illness and mental health and working to assure the adequate provision of mental health services in communities throughout Virginia.

As citizen advocates, the Association is working for a greater emphasis on children in state mental health programs.

The Mental Health Association asserts that education is a key factor in preventing mental health problems, and offers free literature to the public on children's mental health, mental health education, depression and other mental health topics. For information, write to the Mental Health Association in Virginia, 1806 Chantilly Street, Suite 203, Richmond, Virginia, 23230.
